Burke Trial Is Wednesday.

The trial of Richard Burke, the Indian slayer of Ed Kirkpatrick, which was originally set for Thursday has been advanced to Wednesday of this week with a possibility of it coming up tomorrow inasmuch as there is no case on the docket for tomorrow.

After the Burke case has been disposed of, there will be nothing but bootlegging cases left on the docket.

Deputy Clerk Resigns.

R. T. Brown, who has been deputy county clerk under Frank Saline, has resigned his position. Harry Rees, former assistant postmaster under J. T. Brown, has been appointed county clerk and assumed his duties today.

Mr. Rees has been living on his farm near Stanfield since leaving the post-office.

NEWS OF FARM AND RANGE

Poisoning Many Rabbits—According to Elmer Cleaver, who was in the west end of the county yesterday, the farmers are meeting with great success in poisoning rabbits with strychnine mixed with chopped alfalfa. He says in one section visited yesterday dead rabbits were thick but that further up on Butter creek where no work has been done the rabbits are still thick. He believes that if the poisoning campaign is continued during the cold weather the rabbits can be almost exterminated.

Bill Will Affect Working Hours of Women and Girls

SALEM, Ore., Feb. 1.—The senate passed the bill authorizing the industrial welfare commission to allow women and girls employed in canneries and fruit packing houses and similar activities connected with the fruit industry to work overtime in case of emergencies. The bill repealing the law providing that only licensed anesthetists could administer anesthetics, was passed. The house session was brief and little was accomplished.

The senate passed the following other bills: Relating to filling reports of treasurer and sheriff with the county clerk; providing the county treasurer shall deposit monthly with the county clerk all county orders received; relating to the publication of semi-annual reports of county clerks.

MAD COYOTE IS KILLED AFTER ATTACKING WOMAN

ANIMAL GIVES BATTLE BEFORE IT FINALLY IS BROUGHT LOW BY BULLET.

J. F. Somers of Kamela brought down this morning from his home the latest story of a mad coyote and it indicates the seriousness of the situation in this county. A few days ago, he states, a rapid coyote approached his place and made for his wife, chasing her indoors. He then went out and the animal charged him, forcing him to retreat. He secured his gun, however, and killed the animal but not before it had savagely bitten two of his pups. He has tied the pups up to observe their actions and, if he becomes convinced that they have been inoculated with the germ, he will kill them.

Lusitania for their home in Scotland. Mrs. Vert and Miss Wilkie left here two weeks ago and went east via the Canadian Pacific visiting enroute friends at Calgary, Winnipeg, Toronto, Niagara, Montreal and Quebec. Last Wednesday they were met in Albany, New York, by Miss Wilkie's brother who has been living in Portland lately. Mrs. Vert will visit in eastern cities a short time before returning home.

WILSON SELECTS MEMBERS OF NEW TRADE COMMISSION

AMONG THOSE CHOSEN TO SERVE IS W. H. PARRY OF SEATTLE WASH.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—It is learned authoritatively that the president practically has decided to appoint the following membership on the federal trade commission: Joseph M. Hurley of Chicago; George Record of New Jersey; W. J. Harris of Georgia; W. H. Parry of Seattle.

BOOTLEGGERS A PROBLEM.

I shall certainly favor providing work for the prisoners next winter. The county is called upon to furnish wood to many poor families and I see no reason why the prisoners should not work up this wood. They could also crush the rock which is used on the roads near Pendleton. But for the fact that the crushers are in other parts of the county now, I would favor putting them to work now."

JESSE FALLING DIES.

They sent two of the party to investigate. These two were caught in a snow storm when half way and turned back instead of going on. Being 200 miles from the base of their supplies and winter coming on, the whole party turned back to the settlements. They never returned next spring but another party did and found quartz richly studded with gold. This was the beginning of the famous Canal Diggings which made many fortunes.

From British Columbia, Mr. Falling went to Portland and for two or three years followed his trade as carpenter. He helped build the Baptist church there and also Captain Ainsworth's house. Captain Ainsworth then sent him to Cascades to help build a boat which he was going to run as far as The Dalles. On the boat's maiden trip, Mr. Falling was a passenger up river. He caught another boat at The Dalles and came on to Umatilla in 1863.

After Measles Whooping Cough or Scarlet Fever

the extreme weakness often results in impaired hearing, weakened eyesight, bronchitis and other troubles, but if Scott's Emulsion is given promptly, it carries strength to the organs and creates rich blood to build up the depleted forces.

Children thrive on Scott's Emulsion. It is Free from Alcohol.

The Plumber

By Berton Braley.

I telephoned the plumber,
And right on time he came;
He truly was a hummer
And should be known to fame;
He spent no time in gazing,
And found out what was wrong,
And what is most amazing—
He had his tools along.

He did not con the matter
For half an hour or more;
Nor solder did he spatter
Upon the kitchen floor.
With zeal still undiminished,
He worked away for us;
And when the job was finished
He cleared up all the mess.

With beating heart I waited
His memo of expense,
Until he lightly stated
His bill was 50 cents;
My face grew pale and haggard,
I gave a muffled scream
Into a chair I staggered
And woke—it was a dream!

KEEP ON DREAMING

For words and music to above, see
BEDDOW & MILLER
126 W. Court St. Telephone 292

There he built the Orleans hotel, which he ran for eight years. This hotel was washed away during the high water of 1875. In 1871 he leased the J. D. Switzer ranch across the river and farmed it for several years. He planted the orchard which is still to be seen there. It was while in Umatilla that he married Mrs. Martha Hendley, a widow.

In 1878, Mr. Falling came to Pendleton, then an infant burg, and he purchased of Mrs. Aura Raley for $30 the lot at the corner of Main and Water street where he has conducted his business ever since. He thought for a time of buying the lot upon which now stands the Tallman Drug Store but decided it was too dusty there.

Engages in Business.
Mr. Falling engaged in the furniture and undertaking business here, being the pioneer in those branches of Commercial life. Having been a carpenter and a very good one, since boyhood, he turned his skill while running his hotel in Umatilla to making furniture and this afterwards led him to engage in the furniture business here. He conducted his joint business here until January, 1907, when he sold out to John Baker and Ralph Polson. Since that time, however, he has still carried pianos and sewing machines in his old location.

Eleven years ago his team ran away and he suffered injuries that necessitated the amputation of one leg. Despite this handicap, however, he had retained his health and good spirits until the past few months when he began to fail.
